Hunterdon County Surrogate Court Re-Opens To Public
August 2 at 8 am

Transitions To Post-Pandemic Operation

The Hunterdon County Surrogate Court, at the Justice Center on Park Avenue in Flemington, will reopen for in-person service on Monday, August 2, 2021 at 8 am, in accordance with the New Jersey Administrative Office of the Courts' (AOC) directive to all New Jersey Courts, County Surrogate Susan J. Hoffman recently announced.

Surrogate Hoffman said, "Surrogate business again can be conducted in person, after the Office, although fully operational, acted without in person contact throughout the COVID-19 pandemic. Documents were only allowed to be dropped off in the lobby.

The public was not allowed into the Justice Center, by order of the AOC, for several months, and business had to be conducted via email, facsimile and telephone since mid-March of 2020."

As the court transitions to post-pandemic operations, Surrogate Hoffman recommends that persons who need to transact business in the Surrogate Court seek an appointment to ensure expeditious action, however the Office will also be open for walk ins.

Hunterdon County Board of Commissioners Deputy Director John E. Lanza, who serves as liaison to the Surrogate Court, said, "The Surrogate Court provides valuable services such as filing adoptions, appointing guardians for persons in need and other administrative duties related to wills and probates.

There have been challenges for conducting business throughout COVID-19, but the Board and I are grateful to have Surrogate Hoffman's knowledge and experience during this unusual period."
